Village of Koh Pannyyi, in Phangnga Bay near Phuket, Thailand. Koh Pannyyi is a fishing village floating on bamboo shoots.

Village in Rheris Valley, Morocco. Fortified villages are frequent along the valley of the Rheris, as they are on most rivers of southern Morocco.

Earth From Above

To change your perspective on things, go up and look down. This volume has a portfolio of aerial views similar to the Georg Gester classics, Grand Design and Below from Above, but without those books' lyrical elegance. There's wider variety here, blunter politics (clear-cutting, ugh!), and more of the Earth's bioregions covered.
